Dear Richard,

A woman who is working on an assassination novel got the idea from a bookstore that I have a Carroll & Graf connection. She phoned me, I told her I have never met either, and I suggested she might want to speak to you about her project. I know nothing about it. Or about her.

In the enclosed letter Jeffrey Frank, of the Post Outlook staff, says he thinks he will not be given Case Open to review and that he'd like a copy. Whether or not he is asked to review it, he may well be consulted by others because of his Posner review and Posner's nasty letter after it.

I think it will be good for him to have a copy and I ask that you please send him one.

Or that perhaps Kent Carroll do that. He says they are friends.

best,

Harold

I sent Frank a copy of Selections.
